DAHL
CASE STUDY

KEY RESULTS

COMPANY

This company is one of the largest IT solutions providers in the Midwest, they offer management of information technology solutions, security services, and application development. Our partnered locations include North Dakota and Minnesota.

CHALLENGE

Before partnering with DAHL, this organization had difficulty gaining access to experienced candidates throughout the United States for specialized IT roles including, application developers, solutions architects, help desk representatives, account executives, network engineers, project managers, and systems engineers

SOLUTION

Due to the organizations' growth and staff turnover, they utilized DAHL to help recruit for their open IT positions. DAHL is specialized in recruiting for these roles, so the organization experienced an increase in their visibility, as well as career placements through DAHL's talent expertise.

> "Your solution improved morale with less overtime. Client retention increased because we more effectively serviced our clients when we're staffed appropriately."
